

Wine by the Glass

For by the bottle options please turn me over.

This is our 'Wine Thing' (we couldn't think of a better name for it). It is designed to make ordering wine easier and it's a bit like 'Battleships' - just pick your grape, decide on the price you want to pay and the grid will give you our choice. If there is more than one wine to choose from, you can compare same-priced varietals to better appreciate basic differences in style.

We like this style of buying and especially when brand and habit are playing a greater part in the choices we make. To our mind, it's what's in the bottle (not what's on the bottle) that counts; and it's our job to find for you the best glass of riesling we can for £6 or the perfect bottle of pinot for £60.

If you're feeling flush please feel free to charge up a wine card and help yourself to the wide variety of some of our more unusual and expensive new world wines by the glass that are safely stored in our shiny new Enomatic wine samplers. These machines enable you to taste, compare, contrast, discuss and decide on your favourite style, variety, region and/or country.

We are planning various regional, national and transcontinental 'battles' and challenges and we may even rack up some French favourites for an old world v new world face-off.
